

Dear Director,

Prix W 2023: Competition for Students and Young Architects

For the past 16 years, the Wilmotte Foundation has been promoting the meeting of heritage and contemporary creation through the organization of the W Prize.

For its tenth edition, we propose a challenge as stimulating as it is essential: A roof over everybody's head!

Rooftops shape the landscape of cities and countryside, they shape the horizon. A roof is a protection, it is a shelter to restart one's life. It is a promise of a renewed family and social life.

Given the current crisis of poor housing, we invite each participant to imagine original solutions to design habitable modules that would slide under these existing and unused roofs.

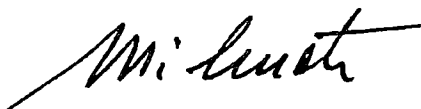

The best projects, selected by an international jury, will receive an award and will be exhibited in Venice at the Wilmotte Foundation Gallery at the Biennale of Architecture. They will also be published in a dedicated book.

You can find all the information about this competition at www.prixw.com
The deadline for submission of projects is March 20, 2023.

If you wish to propose this topic as a theme for your workshops, please do not hesitate to contact us.

This is an exceptional opportunity for your school and your students to shine in the architecture community. We look forward to receiving your students' proposals.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions.
